BARROW WORD SEARCH

Salmon
One of the species listed as conservation interest in the River Barrow SAC.

Crayfish
White-clawed crayfish is the only native freshwater crayfish in Ireland.

Sac
Special area of conservation is a site internationally important for threatened habitats and species.

Mill
The ruin of an old mill can be found near Levittstown Lock.

Dolmen
Dolmen at Brownshill is Europe’s largest portal tomb.

Key
Lock are manually operated using a lock key.

Kingfisher
Protected bird species under European and Irish law, living on the Barrow.

Bridge
Leighlin Bridge is one of the oldest surviving bridges in Ireland, built in 1320 and widened in 1789.

Iris
Yellow iris is one of the common fringe plants found along the Barrow.

Frenzy
Frenzy was a highway man who hid his loot in Brownsford Wood and then sat on Frenzy’s chair, near Carriglea Lock on the Barrow, admiring his stash.

Trackway
The towpath along the Barrow Navigation is also known as the Trackway.

Moling
St. Moling established a monastery here in the Seventh century. Throughout his life he is attributed with performing many miracles, and curing many diseases.

An initiative of the Waterways Ireland Heritage Plan 2016-2020